The Perfect Guest

*She answered by return of post
The invitation of her host.
She caught the train she said she would,
And changed at junctions as she should.
She brought a light and smallish box
And keys belonging to the locks.
Food strange and rare she did not beg
But ate the homely scrambled egg.*

*When offered morning tea, she drank it;
She did not crave an extra blanket,
Nor extra pillows for her head;
Made no complaints about her bed.
She never came downstairs till ten;
She brought her own self-filling pen;
Nor once by look or word or blame
Exposed her host to open shame.
She left no little thing behind
Excepting loving looks and kind.*
